Dear Mr. Dean,

I wanted to take a moment to offer my appreciation to you for the tremendous presentation you made to the parents in Grapevine, Texas recently. I know it was a last minute adjustment that you made to your schedule to squeeze us in and I thank you for doing that.

I had heard of your message, and felt that it was an important message to give to our parents, but had never actually seen one of your presentations. I can now say that it is a very worthwhile presentation and one that every parent should see. You did a great job of presenting the material and keeping everyone engaged. Since you were here I have seen many parents who have asked if you were going to come back to the area for another presentation. Everyone seemed to have enjoyed it and all felt they walked away with a lot of important information. Even our School Resource Officers, who make presentations on internet predators, felt that they gained some valuable information that they will add to their own presentations.

Thank you for what you do Jeffrey. Keep on fighting the good fight, our children are worth the effort.

Best regards,
