To Whom It May Concern:

It is a pleasure to recommend Jeff Dean as a motivational speaker at your school. Jeff would be an outstanding addition to any school interested in presenting worthwhile convocations which help in the development of young minds.

Jeff conducted a motivational presentation at Northview High School during the Spring of 2000. The convocations occurred during the afternoon when students tend to be more active. Mr. Dean held the attention of all the students for the entire period. The students were captivated by his creative and unique talents. The presentation was not only humorous, realistic, entertaining and high energy but most of all on a level that related well with our student body. Mr. Dean's "no nonsense" approach caught the attention of our students in a way most speakers miss. Jeff displayed a caring attitude for the students that was obvious.

I would not hesitate to have Mr. Dean return to our school for this program. I received positive comments from our students, staff and faculty. I believe Jeff Dean would be an asset to the children of your school system.

Sincerely,

Lynn S. Romas, Principal
