

RE: Jeffrey Dean Presentation

Recently Mr. Dean was a featured speaker at our Middle School Open House. I thought his presentation, while tempered with humor, addressed many of the serious issues facing middle grade students in today's world. He spoke frankly about some uncomfortable topics to a mixed audience of parents, teachers, and some students, all the while being mindful of what level of information was appropriate for the group. My only regret is that I wish more of my students and their parents had been present to hear Mr. Dean's message.

Sincerely,

Teri Worley
