To whom it may concern,

I have now had the privilege of working with Jeffrey Dean at three of our annual youth conferences here in upstate New York. We first met Jeffrey through our middle school conference. He delivered consistent messages to the kids loaded with humor, Scripture and application. When we had him return to be our keynote at our high school conference, we knew we had made the right choice. Jeffrey delivered with excellence again.

Last month, we invited Jeffrey back to serve as the high school conference keynote. I truly appreciated Jeffrey's willingness to work so closely with our conference theme, to provide relevant stories and supporting media to his talks and to drive home very clear points about faith in Christ.

If you're looking for a dynamic speaker to whom students will instantly relate, then Jeffrey Dean is your guy. I highly recommend him as a speaker at any teen event, Christian or secular. Jeffrey knows how and what to deliver is very humble in his preparation and most importantly keeps his focus on what God wants to say each time.
